In accepting this document editorially for the 5-month DIS vote, several points arose which should be addressed in the revised text before submission to ISO/CS for preparation for the FDIS vote:

- 1) The scope is so short as to be not that helpful. A paragraph or two from the Introduction would clarify considerably.
- 2) Please do not include in Notes phrases which include "must" (which in any case should be "shall") and phrases such as "it is important that...", which should be converted to full text. Notes contain only "disposable" information, not provisions.
- 3) Figures are not presented in ISO style, nor are the units of dimension always clear. Use of decimal comma for SI units and numbering of figure elements with associated Key are needed. These editorial points must be corrected on the FDIS figures.
- 4) Decimal numbers less than one must show a zero preceding the decimal separator, no matter what unit system is used.

Thank you for taking the above comments into consideration. We look forward to receiving your revised text in due course.
